Health & Safety Welfare

To help you understand some of the main Health, Safety & Welfare matters on site, please familiarise yourself with the common terms listed below:

C.O.S.S.H
Control of Substances Hazardous to Health. You should make yourself aware of any risks attached to the materials you are using that could cause you an injury and what equipment you should be issued with and wear when working with these materials. Information should be provided by the client or marked on the product.

R.I.D.D.O.R.
Reporting of Injuries, Diseases and Dangerous Occurrences Regulations. You are responsible for reporting any accidents that cause injuries or diseases or any dangerous occurrences which could have led to injuries or diseases immediately to the client. These must be recorded in the site register and you must also report the incident to The Premier Recruitment Solutions office.

Risk Assessment
Under the latest regulations the client is required to have evaluated the risks or hazards appertaining to the work you are carrying out. This information should be made available to you. You are also required to have evaluated all risk or hazards and to take all precautions possible to reduce or eliminate the risk or hazards involved.

Method Statements
Where identifiable risks or hazards exist in carrying out works then the client should issue a method statement as to how sections of work must be carried out (you should also assure yourself as to the accuracy of the statements. They will not eliminate you from your duties of responsibilities to carry out your work in a safe manner).
Manual Handling Regulations

Under the latest regulations, guidance lines have been added to reduce the number of injuries caused by the improper lifting of heavy materials. You should avoid lifting materials where there is a risk of injury. Additional help or mechanical assistance should be asked for. Think Before You Lift!!

Temporary Electrics

All temporary electrical systems and appliances should be maintained and serviced by qualifies electricians. It is not your duty to wire appliances or alter existing services. All appliances should have a tested/approved fob attached confirming the appliance has been checked and approved with a date of the next test. If this is not attached then the appliance should not be used. Cables should not be laid in water or where there is a risk of water or damage.

Hot Work Permits

Before any hot works are carried out i.e. welding etc, a permit must be obtained from the client prior to the works taking place. This permit should include all necessary precautions and inspection procedures required.

Scaffold Awareness

You should make yourself aware of the safety aspects of what a scaffold or scaffold tower should consist of with regards to safety and stability. NEVER go on or work on a scaffold or tower that is or looks unsafe. Get your supervisor to inspect it if in doubt.

Underground Services

You should not carry out any excavation works until you have assured yourself by asking your supervisor that checks and searches have been done in order to ascertain if any services exist in the area of your work and what the services consist of. You are responsible if you dig and cause injury or damage without checking first.

Discovering Asbestos

If before starting work or during the course of work you discover what is or looks like material that contains asbestos, you should STOP work immediately and notify your supervisor. You should not carry on working on or around this material unless proof of non-asbestos is given.

Working in CONFINED SPACES can be very hazardous due to:-

- Build-up of gases/vapours in sewers, manholes and pits etc.
- Gases/vapours leaking into the areas of work from adjoining areas.
- Gases/vapours being released from the actions of carrying out the works.

Working in confined spaced, you must ensure the following:

- Areas of work have adequate ventilation to make the air fit to breathe.
- A “safe system of work” i.e. Method Statement and Risk Assessment established before entering or commencing the work.
- Testing of the air has been done prior to entering or starting work.
- Proper breathing and safety equipment is provided and worn.
- Someone is outside keeping watch in case of any emergencies.
CSCS

Premier Recruitment Solutions Ltd strongly recommends that all operatives undertake to register and complete the CSCS Health & Safety test to gain the relevant skills card. For further information on the best way forward to achieving this please contact us on 02380 202666 as we are an approved testing centre.

Time Off (applies to all operatives)

Can you please inform your local branch about any period of time off you require so we can agree and organize the dates with our clients.

Equipment

Please note: There is no provision made for tool insurance. Therefore, if tools are left on site and subsequently stolen, there is no provision to claim, against either ourselves or our clients.
